I have a minor in Spanish from UOA and I've taken 7 years of Spanish. I've been married to a Latino man for 26 years and we have 2 children. My husband is bilingual. We go over to his mother's home on Sundays and have breakfast with her which consists of chorizo and eggs. I've always lived around the Hispanic culture since I lived in Tucson and it's a huge part of Arizona.

It is important to celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month because it's good to see other people's cultures and celebrate them. It's good to be able to see everyone's differences and celebrate them because diversity is very important.

I've been to quinceañeras, made tamales during the holidays, and make other Hispanic foods. I had mariachis at my wedding.
