

MODIFIED IN-PERSON

Learning Model

What can families expect while learning in a modified in-person environment? Students will alternate between in-person learning and structured, remote learning throughout the week. Students will be assigned to an "A" or "B" schedule based on their last names and will attend school on alternating days (ex: Mondays/Thursdays and every other Wednesday or Tuesdays/Fridays and every other Wednesday) to ensure fewer students are on campus to maximize physical distancing.

In the remote portion of the week, students will participate in learning through the Blackboard learning management system, using teacher-created curriculum. Families who choose Modified In-Person learning model will remain in this model for the duration of the school semester.

Please note, elements of our plan may be subject to change based on new information and guidance from the Federal/State government and health agency partners. We will continue to share relevant updates with our community.

Detail of Modified In-Person

- Attendance will be taken daily in both the in-person and online formats.
 - On days when students are on campus, the student will be marked present when they arrive at class daily and on time. On their remote learning days, students will be marked present when they log in for learning and complete the daily assignments.
 - Although students must log on to each class period daily to be marked present, the emphasis will be on completing assignments and not on the time students spend online.
- On their in-person days, students will experience a typical school day with enhanced health and safety measures.
- When remote, students will use Blackboard to access CGUHSD teacher created core and elective courses.
- All courses offered during in-person learning will be available remotely.
- When remote, self-guided and live learning will occur with a focus on competency of standards and units of instruction.
- Teachers will provide ongoing feedback and district grading practices will be used.
- Teachers will provide office hours and live individual and/or small group sessions will be available.
- Training is available for students and parents on all learning platforms.
- Parents are encouraged to actively participate in their student's learning to assist school with ensuring student participation and completion of courses.
- Students will be able to participate in extracurricular activities such as band and high school athletics, following health and safety guidelines when available, as well as student eligibility.
- Field trips have been canceled for fall semester.
- Information on state testing will be shared with students and families after the start of the school year.
- Supports provided for Special Education Students according to student IEP.
